

Water Bryan Ledgard

- Design degrees from art colleges in Grimsby and Manchester
- First job was in Fleet Street, progressing to chief illustrated book designer at Macmillan Publishing
- Moving to Octopus Books in Mayfair as commissioning art editor
- Back in Yorkshire, he worked as a newspaper artist, an advertising agency visualiser, and manager of a commercial photographic and video company.
- Set up a design and advertising company in Sheffield and New York.
- Then went back to being a freelance publications designer and photographer.

His work has appeared in publications and on websites for

- Sky Arts
- BBC Radio 2
- National Fairground Archive
- Enjoy Travel
- English Folk Dance and Song Society
- The Geographical Association
- national journals and newspapers.

Bryan has provided editorial photographs of people, places and events around the world, and is also an obsessive street photographer.

